I would like to request a refund

Hassan - 2024-03-08 - Billing Queries

We are confident that you will that you purchased a course packed with first-class training, support, and resources. However, if you are not convinced by the income-pulling potential of our revolutionary systems, we'll swiftly refund every penny of your small investment - no questions asked - as long as your refund request is sent to our support team during the advertised 30-day refund period.

The 30-day no-questions-asked refund period starts on your purchase date (check your receipt if you are unsure when this was). No refunds are granted past the refund period.

Please send your refund request directly to our billing team, which can be contacted at: billing@blueprintcentral.com
